Overview:

The Amhara Association of America (AAA) has verified from interviews with several eyewitnesses and victims' families that on June 18, 2022 at least 554 Amhara civilians were killed, an additional 40 were injured and hundreds more went missing when Oromo Liberation Army (OLA) militants numbering in the thousands attacked 10 villages in Tole Kebele (ward) of Gimbi Woreda (district) of West Wollega Zone in Ethiopia's Oromia Region. Local ethnic Oromo residents also collaborated in the attack, including in guiding OLA forces, executing wounded survivors, and looting and destruction of property including grains, farm animals and houses. AAA has thus far identified 455 victims by name, gender and residence. Many of the victims came from vulnerable populations including women, children and the elderly. The oldest victim was in fact over 100-years-old while the youngest known victim was a 15-day-old infant.

The targets of the massacre were ethnic Amharas only. The massacre in most villages lasted 7 hours from morning (8:30 a.m. local time) to the mid-afternoon (3:30 p.m. local time) while some villages such as Begene and Karakore saw extended hours of mass killing that lasted until 5:00 p.m. local time.

Perpetrators used heavy machineguns and shot victims but, in some cases, used machetes to execute survivors. And at least 13 people were killed by being burned alive. In at least two cases, pregnant women had their wombs cut open with a knife at which point, the assailants cut out the fetuses which they would chop into pieces with the victim watching and finally, slitting her throat. There were also several incidences of mass executions. In one case, over 55 people including 53 women and children were mass executed in a forest located in Chefie village. In a similar case, 14 women and children were shot to death in a vacant home located in Silsaw village. There was also a mass execution of 48 people (mostly women and children) who were killed all at once on the property of a site of worship known as Jafar Mosque located in Silsaw village. In many cases, entire families were killed at once, sometimes including over 10 members of a single family. Many of the victims were buried in mass graves located in the same place they were killed. In addition to physical injuries, many properties and residential homes were entirely burned down and completely looted leaving nothing of value behind.

The massacre took place over 10 villages in Tole Kebele which resulted in 554 confirmed deaths. The number of deceased victims are listed below across villages:

No.	Village	Number of confirmed dead
1	Silsaw	164
2	Chekorsa	106
3	Begene	93
4	Assosa Sefer	26
5	Gutin Sefer	40
6	Karakore	36
7	Sene	51
8	Hayaw	19
9	Oromo Shewa	14
10	Tole	5
	Total	554

The Perpetrators

According to eyewitnesses, the large-scale massacre was primarily perpetrated by OLA militants with collaboration from local ethnic Oromo residents. According to one witness the heavily armed OLA militias and local Oromo residents flooded all ten villages at once within minutes. The attackers split up into groups for each village and the operation began in a highly coordinated manner. The local Oromo residents coordinated with OLA militias in guiding them, helping to locate hiding points, and looting properties such as shop materials, and farm animals. The local Oromo collaborators also took machete and intermittently knives to finish off victims who appeared to survive the gunshot wounds. One source spoke about participation of the locals saying “Those we were living together with them in peace times had attacked us.” The assailants did not spare anyone from 15-day-old infant Nuredin Mohammed from Silsaw village to 100-year-old Aba Hajji Hussein from Chekorsa village. Multiple sources have heard OLA militia calling for indiscriminate killing of Amharas.

For instance, one source who saved himself by climbing and sitting in a tree, heard the militias taking to each other saying “do not spare anyone. Kill whosoever saw you and you saw.” in Oromiffa language. He described the militants’ appearance as follows:

“They possessed heavy arms including light machineguns, heavy machineguns, snipers, [rocket] launcher, and infrequently [automatic] rifles. They spoke to each other in the Oromiffa language [language spoken by Oromo people]. Their hair was usually either drilled or plaited. Their manner of dress was as follows: most wore full uniforms but some wore partial uniforms. Their uniforms included the old ENDF [Ethiopian National Defense Force] uniform, the current uniform of the Oromia Special Police (Oromo Special Forces; OSF), and other uniforms I could not identify. Their shoes; most had military shoes and some had on police shoes. They were many in number, too many to count. They flooded the villages at once.”

Methods of killing

According to eyewitnesses the assailants employed cruel methods of killing which they describe as follows. One witness said “I tried to look into at least a hundred dead bodies. The victims were shot twice with heavy guns, one in the head that completely blew up victims’ heads and the second shot was somewhere in the victims’ groin, back or waist.” He adds at least 12 people including 6 who came from a single family were burned alive in a hut in Gutin Sefer. In another case, at least two pregnant women he did not know by name from Hayaw Sefer were killed in an unimaginably cruel manner: the assailants first cut open the victims' wombs, and then extracted the fetuses out and chopped it into pieces while the mothers were alive, watching, according to the witness and finally, they slit the women's throats with a knife, killing them. Another witness from Silsaw village (whose 7-months-pregnant wife, Toyba Nura was killed) told AAA that he observed the aftermath of the attack including his wife's womb cut open, the fetus stabbed, the mother's throat slit open and shot on sight. He adds "I personally buried four pregnant women killed with their fetus in such a manner in Silsaw village alone".

"It seems like the whole populations is killed": Deadliest Reported Massacre from Western Wollega in recent years.

With at least 554 Amharas massacred, the Tole massacre is among the deadliest reported from Western Wollega in recent years. One survivor who survived by hiding in a forest told AAA: "every bush, forest, farm, street, or home was filled with dead bodies. Most of those killed were women and children because at that time the men were outside of the villages for farming activities." Another witness who lost eight family members told AAA:

"This attack has been particularly tragic. They [OLA and the local Oromo residents] encircled our villages from all sides. They attacked the villages for eight hours long. I witnessed two farmers (He named Ahmed Ali and Ahmed Sherif) shot with heavy guns from a distance. My family members including six others were executed with pointblank gunshots in a vacant room. Then their bodies were mutilated with machetes. 12 people were charred to death inside a hut in Gutin Sefer. 55 people who were taken from Silsaw village were found dead at once at a forest located in Chefie village. Only 2 were adult men while the remaining 53 were women and children. 48 others were also shot dead at the yard of Jafar Moseque located in Silsaw Village. It is the local people (Oromo vigilant youths) who were showing ways to the OLA militias, finished suspected gunshot survivors with machetes, and looted and destroyed properties. I myself know 31 people who were killed from a single family of Ahmed Yesuf. Another guy I cannot name right at this moment also lost 12 family members. All 7 family members of Ahmed Sherif (the one he saw shot) were killed altogether. We thus far have buried 450 dead bodies all across the villages.”

Another surviving resident of Silsaw village who was organizing the burial and collection of dead bodies told AAA:

“We buried 450 bodies. But there were some who remained unburied. And the body of one victim, Emama Mutie from Gutin Sefer, was eaten by wild beasts. In a forest located in Chefie village (in which 53 people were executed en mass) we buried 55 dead bodies only a few of whom were adult men. Almost all were women and children. In Silsaw Sefer we mass buried 63 dead bodies (including 48 who were executed at Jafer Moseque) in a single hole. There are also three mass graves near the mosque where we buried 14, 11 and 2 dead bodies, respectively. In Gutin Sefere, we collected remains of the 12 people who were burnt inside a hut, and we buried them there. The remaining 28 dead bodies from the same village were buried in three sites in the village. In Begene village we did not finish collection and burial. We buried 71 dead bodies in a mass grave site and 11 others somewhere in the village. We have also buried and counted dead bodies numerically, including 17 in Karakore, 14 in Oromo Shewa, 16 in Hayaw, and 77 in Seni and Assosa Sefer villages.”

Other witnesses shared estimated well beyond the above figure. One resident of Chekorsa Sefer captured the scene when he said “almost the whole population is left dead. Only a few of us survived. Believe me thousands were killed. We’re tired of collecting and burying corpses.” Ahmed Hassan who lost his two sisters and participated in collecting the dead bodies also said “It seems like the whole populations is killed.”

Many family members lost several family members. For instance, AAA has verified from him and other sources that Sheikh Mohammed Ali lost his eight family members in the massacre. According to him, the OLA militias surrounded the whole Tole Kebele in the morning (2:00 a.m. local time). At the moment he was working on his farmland, the women and children of the family were at home. He had taken to hiding in a nearby forest. He told his eight family members, who were at home in the Silsaw village, to flee and hide. Then his family members and his six other neighbors took to hiding inside a vacant house in the village nearest to the main road. But they could not be saved. All 14 people who were inside the house were executed with automatic heavy gunfire leaving no survivors. After the gunshots, local Oromo youth finished off the injured victims who had a chance of survival with machete attacks. The executed family members of Sheikh Mohamed include his wife, Kokebie Muhie (aged 48), his four daughters, Toyba Mohammed (aged 23), Hikma Mohammed (aged 5), Saada Mohammed (aged 15), Hayat Mohammed (aged 8), his son, Khalid Mohammed (aged 12), his daughter-in-law, Fatima Nuru (aged 28), and his grandchild Fatima Seyd (aged 4-months-old). He is now left with only two surviving children. Among his six neighbors who were killed alongside his family members include Demeku Idris, her two little children and Ansha Mohammed. In addition, 45-year-old Ahmed Seyd was shot dead just outside of the house while the 14 other soon-to-be victims were hiding. Sheikh Mohammed also saw other farmers such as Ahmed Ali (aged 38) and Ahmed Sherif (aged 45) whose family members were all killed, shot to death with heavy guns from a distance. These witness accounts were also confirmed by other AAA sources such as Ahmed Abdella and Ahmed Jemal.

The mass-execution of 55 Amharas at a forest located in Cheffie village: One witness who participated in the burial process of all the victims told AAA that more than 55 Amharas (53 were women and children) were executed with heavy gunfire in a forest located in Cheffie village. According to witnesses, the assailants forcibly took the victims from various villages to the execution site. After gathering them, the assailants executed all 53 Amharas in six rounds of gunfire. One of the hardest-hit families, Sheikh Abdu Hassen's family from Begene village lost 12 members including his daughters; Kedija Abdu with her two children, Toyba Abdu and her child and four others, and his daughter-in-law Lubaba Ahmed with her three children. Among other victims of this mass execution, Ansha Seyd (aged 25) a mother of 15-day-old baby; Asia Yesuf (aged 40) with her four children, Salih Ahmed (aged 7), Juhar Ahmed (aged 5), Serdes Ahmed (aged 3) and a 1-year-old baby; Aminat Seyd (aged 45) with her three children, Ahmedin Seyd (aged 9), Kasim Seyd (aged 6) and Muktar Seyd (aged 4). Other victims were Ansha Abdu (age 1), Hayat Ali (aged 2), Mohammed Ahmed (aged 3) and Semira Mohammed (aged 4) and Zebura Omer (aged 4). One source who was part of the burial of these bodies described the execution as cruel:

“The bodies looked like natural spring holes, not like a human body. I saw the victim’s skulls including children totally blown off; from each body blood continuously came out and collectively formed a river-like flow.”

According to these witnesses 53 of the dead bodies were buried in a mass grave located in the same forest they were executed.

According to the witnesses a few people miraculously survived from this mass execution because the assailants believed they had killed everyone. Most of the survivors were children including 10-year-old Mohammed Jemal and 15-day-old infant of Ansha Seyd. Such children were saved because their mothers were falling over them. The 15-day-old infant had spent two days with the dead bodies of her mother and others and witnesses found the infant weak after 2 days of rainfall, cold and hunger.

Ahmed Sherif’s entire family killed. According to AAA’s sources this family is one of the hardest-hit families and is exterminated without a survivor for storytelling. Sheikh Mohammed told AAA that he saw Ahmed Sherif (aged 45) shot and fell during the heavy gunfire from a distance while he was working on his plot of land. Ahmed Jemal adds in addition to the gunshot on his back, the victim's throat was found slit open with a knife. His wife Fatim Kemal (aged 30) and his five children including Jemila Ahmed (aged 14), Kedir Ahmed (7) and two other little children were at home in Chekorsa village. The assailants dragged them all out from their home and took them to a forest in Cheffie village where they were executed with gunshots along with 47 others. They were buried in a mass grave site with the other victims of the mass execution in the same forest in Cheffie village.

Mass-execution of 48 Amharas at the yard of Jafar Mosque: AAA has also verified from several eyewitnesses that 48 Amharas predominantly women and children fled the attack to Jafar Mosque. The victims went to the mosque hoping the assailants would have respect for the sacred place and spare them. But they were all indiscriminately shot to death with heavy gunfire which left no survivors. 31 of the victims of this mass execution were relatives of Mohammed Yesuf including 22 immediate family members and nine other relatives. One witness described the unspeakable horror of his time telling AAA the following:

“At the moment I with others arrived at the mosque (Jafar Mosque), we saw a large number of people reaped off like cereal. It was hard to speak. They (OLA) executed them with heavy gunfire in procession. The dead bodies were spread across the yard of the mosque with some forming lines, most laid one over the other, a child over a woman and a woman over a child. Most of the victims' heads including those of children were seen scarred. I noticed there were a few adult men alone. The majority of those killed there were women and children. No one survived, all were found dead.”

All 48 victims were buried in a mass grave located in the same mosque with 15 others collected from all around. All 31 family members of Mohammed Yesuf were murdered including 22 family members and nine other extended family members.

13 Amharas charred to death inside huts in Gutin Sefer and Silsaw villages: AAA has verified from multiple sources that 12 civilians including three children who were hiding in a hut in Gutin village were deliberately burnt to death by the assailants. While the victims were inside the hut the militants arrived and surrounded the hut. They then set fire to the hut while the victims inside were crying to be spared. All were burned with the hut. The victims who were charred to death included Leyla Aminu who was six months pregnant and her 6-year-old daughter Sofia Seyd; Ansha Nuru who was nine months pregnant with her 3-year-old son and her brother's 6-year-old daughter; Nurit Yasin, a mother of two, Sheikh Mohammed Ahmed with his five other family members; his wife Aminat Yimam, his daughter Zemzem Mohammed, his daughter Rabia Mohammed, and his other mentally ill-daughter (name unknown), and his grandson Kasim Itefa (Zemzem's son). Remains of their bodies that were consumed by the fire were buried in a mass grave in the same place they were burned. In a similar method of killing, a source told AAA that the OLA militants dragged a 40-year-old mother; Ansha Ibrahim Yimer into a hut located in Silsaw village, and then set fire to it causing the hut to burn down while she was inside the hut.

Several hard-hit families: 6 members of Jemal Nuru's family: his wife Mumina Ibrahim, his sons Bilal Jemal (aged 4), Hamza Jemal (aged 6), and Kelsuma Jemal (aged 11), his sisters-in-law, Zehara Mohammed and Bereka Ibrahim (aged 8) were killed along with 55 other victims in a mass-execution in Cheffie village. Four members of Ahmed Mohammed's family, his wives Amo Seyd and Amo Hussein, his children Seyd Mohammed (aged 10) and Merema Mohammed (aged 5) were killed in the yard of Jafar Mosque. Three members of Hassen Indris's family, his daughters, Halimet Hassan and her 1-year-old infant Abidet Awol, and Zenebey Hassan were killed along with 55 victims in Cheffie village. Four members of Mohammed's family, the mother Kedija Mohammed, and her children Ali Hussein (aged 10), Mohammed Hussein (aged 8), and Abdu Hussein (aged 16) were executed at their home in Begene village. Four members of Abdu's family, Mohammed Abdu, Kedija Abdu with her children Indris Areb (aged 8) and Firdes Areb (aged 2) were shot to death while fleeing the attack at the bank of a flowing river in Begene village. Four members of Ismail Nuru's family, his 8-months-pregnant wife Kewonya Seyd, his 2-year-old twin sons Asma Nuru and Omer Nuru, and his other son Ali Nuru (aged 11) were shot with machinegun bullets after dragging them out of their home.

Widespread Property Destruction and Looting

The violence also involved extensive property looting and destruction of properties, businesses, farm animals, homes and valuable goods and assets. As a result, the survivors of the massacre are also facing serious problems such as food shortage and lack of shelter. They are appealing for urgent humanitarian relief. One resident of Tole Kebele who had his property completely destroyed/looted describes their dire situation as follows:

“Those of us who survived the OLA's bullets are about to die from hunger. The infants are especially suffering, they are weak from hunger. We are living in bushes and forests because they destroyed our homes. But no one has come here to visit us, let alone help. We feel alien to this country. In the summer, we are facing intense cold at night and heat during the day.”

Another AAA source told AAA that everything was damaged. People whose houses were burned down are forced to seek shelter in veranda and makeshift shelters. Although his house was not destroyed, everything in it was stolen. All of his property was completely destroyed or stolen including his shop which contained an inventory worth 300,000 ETB, his 3 sheep, 50,000 ETB in cash, and various other valuable possessions including his house were either destroyed or looted by the OLA militants and their collaborators. The OLA militias focused on cash while local Oromo collaborators looted property including animals and anything valuable.

State negligence and complicity

According to AAA’s sources, the massacre was enabled, sanctioned, and supported by regional and federal government authorities. Firstly, the local government militia who were guarding the area left the area a few days before the attack, effectively inviting OLA militants to come and attack unchallenged. One source informed AAA that the Gimbi Woreda Administration (which also covers Tole Kebele) were informed that OLA militias had been approaching the kebele. In response, the woreda administration relocated stationed security forces to Dedesa camp leaving the Amhara residents defenseless. There were also concerning details which suggest conflict of interest and possible coordination between officials and OLA. For example, the Kebele Administrator, Nigatu Ometas’s son, Gemechu Ometa is an OLA member. Abebe Wakoya, brother of the Kebele’s security head, Kidanu Wakoya is also an OLA member. These individuals including the Chief of Oromia state militia in Tole Kebele left the area three days before the massacre. Second, on the day of the attack, telecommunications, internet and phone coverage in the area was shut down (note the national telecommunications service provider, Ethio Telecom is owned and operated by the state), effectively denying victims any opportunity to alert the world about their plight.

Thirdly, federal (national defense forces) and regional (Oromia Special Forces) forces were not deployed throughout the 9-hour long attack but returned to the area after the killings and threatened survivors not to record the burial process and the mass graves because it could potentially incite outrage against the government.

This recent massacre by the OLA is occurring in parallel to the massive crackdown dubbed “law enforcement operation” against Amharas by Prime Minister Abiy Ahmed, his Oromo Prosperity Party (OPP), and the Amhara Regional Government [Amhara Prosperity Party (APP)] where the government admitted to the arrest of over 12,000 Amharas since mid-May 2022. Those arrested include over 20 journalists, 62 opposition political party members, lawyers, university professors, and current/ex-government officials who were critical of the Abiy administration and well known to oppose the recurrent massacres against Amharas. In several instances, family members of targets were also abducted to lure out the targets. Over 30 peaceful protesters were killed by security forces in May 2022 during the crackdown. Outraged by the recurrent massacres and crackdown on dissenting voice. The Amhara community and Ethiopians at large are demanding Prime Minister Abiy Ahmed to resign and independent international investigations be undertaken into the ongoing state-sanctioned Amhara genocide.

About Amhara Association of America (AAA)

The Amhara Association of America (AAA) is a non-profit civic organization located in Charlotte, North Carolina that investigates and documents human rights atrocities and repression against Amharas in Ethiopia. AAA seeks to inform U.S. policymakers, international human rights organizations, media, and all Ethiopian stakeholders to pressure Ethiopian leaders to change laws, policies, and practices in Ethiopia so perpetrators are held accountable and victims receive justice. AAA also collaborates with Amhara organizations in the U.S., supports independent Amhara organizations in Ethiopia, and provides humanitarian aid for Amharas impacted due to targeted ethnic attacks. AAA's funding comes directly from members and supporters; the organization is not affiliated with any Ethiopian or American political or governmental entities.
